

GRADUATE SCHOOL

The University of Texas at Arlington Graduate School promotes academic excellence, professional development, and creative scholarship among its master's, postbaccalaureate, and certificate-seeking students. It is dedicated to developing the potential for high-impact research, creativity, innovation, and entrepreneurship among UTA's emerging leaders.

UTA's Graduate School and a graduate faculty of more than 600 partner to create high standards for academic accomplishment and to achieve an intellectual environment of the highest quality for the University community. Faculty members and students are held to rigorous standards, where they are expected to conduct their academic responsibilities with ethical and professional integrity and with a level of intellectual curiosity that pushes the boundaries of knowledge. Committing to these exacting standards creates a community of learners who excel in their respective fields and extend UTA's reputation to the farthest reaches of the world.

FAST FACTS

- UTA offers 100-plus graduate degrees across 46 academic departments
- The University launched its first graduate programs in 1966 with six master's degrees
- 18 UTA graduate programs are ranked in the top 100 in the nation (U.S. News & World Report, 2026)
- Over 12,000 graduate and postbaccalaureate students are enrolled at UTA
- UTA is ranked the No. 1 most innovative university in the DFW Metroplex (U.S. News & World Report, 2026)
- The Wall Street Journal named UTA the top university in North Texas in its 2026 rankings
- UTA is among the top 5% of research institutions nationwide, according to the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education (2025)

DISCOVER MORE ABOUT GRAD SCHOOL