

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 2026

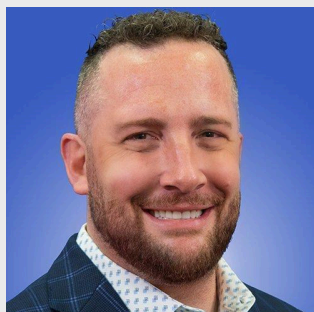

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Manufacturing associations connect to potential workforce as interest in industry grows:

The Fort Worth Report attended the Texas Manufacturing Assistance Center's Manufacturing Day 2026, where more than 1,500 North Texas high school students interested in manufacturing careers participated in hands-on experiences. Photo courtesy of TMAC.

EXPERT INSIGHTS

What's the goal of the military-style workouts that left an ASU hockey player on life support?: Facilitated by the media relations team, Adam Annaccone, clinical associate professor in the Department of Kinesiology, joined KJZZ, the NPR station in Phoenix, to discuss the the purpose of so-called military-style workouts in collegiate and professional sports, and why are they prominent today.

MORE NEWS

Why do we love fiery foods if they hurt?: A story that originally published last week in The Dallas Morning News was shared by the Miami Herald, Kansas City Star, Charlotte Observer, and others.

.....

Inside the ambitious Texas study scanning every organ to decode how we age: Bioengineering.org, a leading online science, research, and technology news service, examined UTA's Arlington Study of Healthy Aging.

Some websites require registration or subscription before viewing the entire story.

This briefing is prepared by UTA Media Relations. Send questions or comments to Jeff Caplan, director of media relations, at jeff.caplan@uta.edu.

UTA News Center

View this email online.

701 S. Nedderman | Arlington, TX 76019 US

This email was sent to .

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Subscribe to our email list.