Webinar: Getting Clients Unstuck: Advanced Socratic Questioning for Trauma and PTSD

The NASW-TX Houston Branch is partnering with an award-winning clinician and trainer, Dr. Stefanie LoSavio, to offer a 3-hour live virtual CE training, Getting Clients Unstuck: Advanced Socratic Questioning for Trauma and PTSD.

Socratic questioning is an evidence-based intervention and a foundational component of cognitive behavioral therapy (CBT). Despite its importance, many clinicians report difficulty using Socratic questioning effectively, particularly when working with trauma-related beliefs such as self-blame, hindsight bias, and cognitive "stuck points" that interfere with treatment progress.

This training focuses on enhancing clinician skill in the use of Socratic questioning within CBT and trauma-informed practice. Participants will learn to identify effective questioning strategies, recognize common clinician errors, and apply advanced techniques to support cognitive flexibility and emotional processing. Instruction will include didactic presentation, case examples, demonstration, and guided experiential practice.

Graduate students are welcome to join!

- Date: April 9, 2026 (Zoom)
- Time: 11:00am-2:00pm CT | 12:00pm-3:00pm ET | 9:00am-12:00pm PT
