

YEAR IN REVIEW

Thrive Here, Thrive Forever!

As we reflect on 2025, the UTA School of Social Work is proud of a year marked by growth, impact, and meaningful connection. From research and community engagement to student achievements and alumni highlights, this year showcased the strength of our mission and the people who bring it to life. We're excited to look back on some of the biggest stories from 2025 and celebrate the work that continues to move our school forward.

UTA School of Social Work Hosts Trunk-or-Treat and Food Giveaway to Support Families

By Jaelon Jackson

What began as a rainy morning turned into a bright afternoon of community connection as the University of Texas at Arlington's School of Social Work hosted its annual Trunk-or-Treat and Food Giveaway.

The event blended family fun with social impact, offering candy, games and decorated car trunks alongside free food boxes provided through the school's partnership with the Tarrant Area Food Bank.

"Our goal is to create a welcoming and supportive environment where all individuals and families can come together to enjoy a day of fun, obtain essential food resources, and connect," said Jobanet Flores, UTA School of Social Work marketing manager. "We hope that everyone joining us can find meaning in connecting, giving back, and building a stronger community for all."

SSW Professor Hosts Community Dialogue on Urban Leadership

By Jaelon Jackson

The path to lasting community change doesn't start with a policy. It starts with the people.

That's the belief driving the work of Antong Lucky, president and CEO of Urban Specialists, a Dallas-based nonprofit focused on disrupting cycles of poverty and violence in urban communities. In a recent conversation with Dr. Kelli Rogers, assistant professor of practice at the University of Texas at Arlington School of Social Work, Lucky emphasized the power of lived experience, collaboration and empathy in driving social impact.

President Cowley speaks at social work alumni breakfast

By Jaelon Jackson

The University of Texas at Arlington School of Social Work hosted its annual Alumni Breakfast March 20, bringing together more than 100 alumni and community members to celebrate Social Work Month and share in the school's achievements and upcoming initiatives.

The event was emceed by award-winning speaker, poet, and UTA alumnus Michael Guinn, who energized the crowd with his storytelling and poetry.

"It's more than a breakfast — it's a reunion of purpose," Guinn said. "Social workers are the unsung heroes of our communities and today was about honoring that passion and legacy."
