SOCIAL JUSTICE SPOTLIGHT

November 25th is National Elimination of Violence against Women Day!

On November 25th , we celebrate National Elimination of Violence against Women Day!

On November 25th let us celebrate National Elimination of violence against women!

There are plenty of women who experience violence to this day. Many in the past has suffered from it, and others advocate to stop it. Throughout the years, government policies and laws have discouraged the use of violence against women and girls.

However, the issue remains common:

- One in three women worldwide experience physical or sexual violence — mostly by an intimate partner.
- Globally, 35% of women and girls will experience some form of physical and/or sexual violence. In some countries, the statistics are closer to 70%.
- Nearly half of all human trafficking victims around the world are women.
- 650 million women and girls in the world are forced to marry before the age of 18.

YOU MATTER

What to do for Thanksgiving!

Hello Mavs! We are almost to the finish line on this Fall semester. Give yourself a pat on the back for all the wonderful things that you've accomplished, whether that be school or life in general. It's always a bittersweet feeling to go spend some time for yourself during the holidays, especially if you feel like you have so much to do. Write down scheduled times to work on homework, research, and work in general. Please spend time with loved ones and take care of your physical and mental health. This time around can always feel like we are running out of time (I know I feel like that all the time!) but you are not. During this break, write down reasons why you're thankful!

Things like....

- Finishing a book
- Finishing a paper/schoolwork
- Waking up and walking your pet
- Getting up and ready
- Going to the gym
- Trying something new
- Spending more time with your loved ones
- Working on your health

Whether you feel like your accomplishments be big or small, they are important to highlight. Take care of yourself!

Warm Regards,
Olga Carrillo

MSW Student, Graduate Student Leader,
The University of Texas at Arlington
