

NASW - TEXAS CONFERENCE

GALVESTON ISLAND CONVENTION CENTER

13 Thursday

BALL ROOM A/B
12:00PM

JANDEL CRUTCHFIELD, PHD, LCSW

Opening Plenary Featuring Keynote Presentation, "I'm Good: How Complacency in Social Work Impacts Inclusivity"

This interactive keynote will provide participants with a basic understanding of inclusivity; inclusivity in social work practice, education, and research; ways that complacency and privilege in the profession creates a barrier to true inclusivity amongst social workers as colleagues; ways to overcome the complacency trap.

119.
SCHOONER ROOM
2:30PM

REBECCA COLE, LCSW-S
STEPHANIE DEGRATE, LCSW-S
DANITA GALLEGOS, LCSW-S

Choosing a Student Loan Forgiveness Program

This workshop identifies student loan forgiveness programs (SLFP) and social worker eligibility. Presenters will discuss their experiences in identifying eligibility and applying for SLFP, as well as challenges incurred in the process.

120.
CLIPPER ROOM
2:30PM

LAURA TERRY, PHD

Substance Use Disorder Intervention Services and the Incorporation of Telehealth.

Providing current and emerging social workers with the knowledge and tools to provide meaningful, ethical, evidence-based substance use disorder interventions utilizing telehealth is critical. This platform provides access to care for those that may not otherwise receive services. This presentation will allow participants to learn about the successes and challenges in delivering interventions like psychoeducational groups, counseling, and case management sessions.

14 Friday

250.
CLIPPER ROOM
10:30AM

SHERRY BOBO, LCSW-S

Many Roads to Recovery - Working with Substance Use Disorders

There are many roads to recovery for Substance Use Disorders (SUD) in addition to inpatient treatment and 12-Step programs. Attendees will learn about other options, empowering social workers to individualize treatment plans for SUD.

268.
SPINNAKER ROOM
3:45PM

ALLISON TOMLINSON, PHD, LCSW-S
STACIE MCCORMICK, PHD

Livable Black Futures Project: Reproductive Social Justice For Black Womb-Holders

This session will teach participants how community storytelling centering the voices of Black womxn can increase knowledge about Black maternal wellness to fulfill the goal of equitable reproductive justice.