Alternative Testing Center (ATC) Student Resource Guide

Students with disabilities who need accommodated testing in the ATC must first register with the SAR Center AND complete an appointment with an Accessibility Specialist. Fill out the new student application through SAR Center Online Services and, if possible, upload any supporting documentation. After the application has been received, students are contacted to make an appointment with an Accessibility Specialist. Students MUST attend this appointment to complete the registration process. Once eligible accommodations are approved, students' accommodation letters (faculty notification emails) will be automatically sent to instructors.

Accommodation Letters (faculty notification emails) must be requested through the AIM Student Portal every semester to receive accommodations for class and exams. Students must request their Accommodation Letters before they can schedule exams.

- Students can start testing 15 minutes prior to their start time if space is available.
 - Students who start early will have their time adjusted.
 - Students who arrive 15 minutes or later must obtain written instructor approval AND will have their testing time deducted according to their arrival time.

- Students are responsible for bringing all the necessary testing supplies on exam day. Students testing in the ATC will have access to:
 - earplugs.
 - noise-canceling headphones.
 - facial tissues.
 - lockers to store personal belongings.
 - ATC is not responsible for any personal belongings that are not secured in a locker. We encourage students to only bring necessary testing materials, when possible.
 - clocks to monitor remaining exam time.
 - desktop computers with
 - LockDown Browser.
 - Webcams.
 - internet access (for online exams only).
- Items NOT allowed in the ATC Testing Space (unless item is a pre-authorized accommodation):

- Students are allowed one 5-minute break per hour while testing unless the student has an accommodation that requires more time for breaks or more breaks overall. Testing time will continue during breaks and students are responsible for keeping track of their remaining testing time.

Scheduling Guidelines

- Students should schedule exams at the same date and time as the rest of the class or according to instructor guidelines in the Testing Agreement. Students will need to obtain prior, written approval from their instructor to schedule an exam at a different time.
- Scheduled exams can be modified or canceled in the AIM student portal. Changes and cancellations need to be completed at least 2 business days before the exam date.
- Students that miss a deadline can ask the course instructor to provide accommodations for a test. However, if the course instructor cannot accommodate a student, then the student may have to take the exam without accommodations. Exceptions to ATC deadlines may be approved on a case-by-case basis.
- If there are no exam dates listed in the yellow box labeled TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SCHEDULING EXAM, then students should email their instructors about it and copy the ATC on the email.
- If an exam is scheduled outside of the class time, then it must be scheduled to overlap with the class time, or students may be asked to schedule their exam on the following business day. Students must have instructor approval to take exams that do not overlap with the class time.

Testing Environment

- Students arriving early should remain in the hallway until they are ready to start their exam. This is to prevent overcrowding in the ATC main lobby. There is seating available to students throughout the main floor of University Hall.
- If you need to leave the ATC during a test for any reason, please check in with the ATC staff first.
- Students should notify the ATC staff immediately about concerns with test questions, instructions, or the testing environment.
- Students must complete their exams during the scheduled testing time. This includes filling out scantrons.
- All testing materials must be returned to the ATC staff during checkout. Students are not allowed to keep testing materials unless given explicit permission from the course instructor.
- The ATC may not be able to accommodate all exams in our space during busy testing days, like during final exams. The ATC staff will move scheduled exams to various locations on campus. Students will be notified about any change in location before the scheduled exam date.
